

ExxonMobil Career Opportunity

Energy lives here™

Corporate Lawyer

ExxonMobil Indonesia is looking for an energetic and commercially astute lawyer, who is keen to have a fulfilling career, for an exciting position. The position will involve a broad range of work across all of ExxonMobil's upstream and downstream works in Indonesia. In supporting these works, the role will include drafting and negotiating commercial agreements and related documents concerning upstream (exploration, development and production) and downstream operations and providing legal advice with respect to various aspects of those operations. This broad range of legal work may include providing litigation and compliance support.

The ideal candidate will have a minimum of eight years relevant experience and currently provides quality business law advice in a major law firm or an in-house legal department. While specific experience in providing legal support for oil and gas operations will be well regarded, it is not essential, as training will be provided.

Excellent verbal and written communication skills in Indonesian and English are a requirement. Strong relationship building skills, self-confidence, flexibility, initiative and a strategic, pragmatic approach are essential.

This is an exceptional opportunity to join a highly respected international company offering good career advancement.

The successful candidate will be based in Jakarta.

ExxonMobil Corporation and its subsidiaries have a substantial presence in approximately 200 countries and territories around the world and are leaders in almost every aspect of the petroleum and petrochemical industries. ExxonMobil started its groundbreaking work in Indonesia in 1968 with multibillion dollar investments, and has since helped the country grow into a global energy supplier. Today, we are producing more than 200,000 barrels per day, supplying more than 25 percent of Indonesia's national oil production, and continue growing our business and investment in lubricants, fuels and chemicals.

Candidates should send their application consisting of a cover letter and a resume – capturing both the experience and GPA of the applicable law degrees. Both should be written in English and sent to:
